INTERNAL REVENUE BUREAU MAKES A STATEMENT TODAY

WARRANTS OF DISTRAINT ATTACHING PROPERTY OF TAX DELINQUENTS

GOVERNMENT HOPES TO SECURE MILLIONS IN BACK TAXES

(By United Press)
Washington, Nov. 20.—A nationwide drive against tax dodgers is about to be started by the government, it was learned at the internal revenue bureau today.

Warrants of distraint attaching the property of tax delinquents are being prepared and will be issued about December 1.

The government hopes to secure millions of dollars in back taxes by the drastic move.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair's recent action in restricting the amount of time allowed for inspection of 1923 tax payment lists was the first step toward getting the drive under way.

These restrictions were made in special cases and put the warrants in shape for issuance. With only ten days to get everything set for the drive, Blair ordered the inspection of lists restricted so that collectors would not be hampered in their preparations.

Tax Lists to be Open Only Three Days a Week.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Instructions to internal revenue collectors to keep tax lists open to public inspection not more than three hours a day on three days a week were sent out by the internal revenue bureau.

The bureau pointed out unrestricted public inspection was making it impossible to transact regular business.

"Experience has demonstrated there are many who desire to see the lists for no obvious reason," said the bureau's statement.

WEIRD MOTIVE IS OUTLINED FOR SELF DESTRUCTION

MINISTER CLAIMS RELIGIOUS FANATICISM UNBALANCED WIFE'S MIND

THAT SHE CRAWLED INTO FURNACE, IMITATING HINDU FUNERAL PYRE

Columbus, O., Nov. 20.—Insensible to pain because of a strange religious fanaticism which had unbalanced her mind and lured her to self-destruction by her husband's eloquent description of heaven, Mrs. Addie Sheatsley crept in on the red-hot coals of the Lutheran parsonage furnace and burned to death.

This, according to her husband, the Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, is the solution of the now famous furnace mystery which came into being last Monday night when the pastor found his wife's remains smoldering in the furnace firebox.

From his experience as a missionary in India, where it is the custom for Hindu women to cast themselves upon the burning funeral pyres of their husbands, the minister believes that it would not have been impossible for his wife to enter the miniature inferno.

FURNACE MYSTERY SHIFTS TO NEARBY VILLAGE

Canton, O., Nov. 20.—The Sheatsley furnace mystery shifted to Canton and Paris, a village near here, today.

Franklin County Prosecutor John R. King was in Canton to interview Mrs. Addie Sheatsley's aged mother in the hope of uncovering some clue to the finding of Mrs. Sheatsley's charred remains in the Lutheran parsonage furnace at Columbus last Monday night.

Rev. C. V. Sheatsley, the furnace victim's husband and his four children were at Paris during the burial of the small portion of Mrs. Sheatsley given back to them by the state chemist.

The husband and four children, wearied by the questioning, found in the quiet hills a brief respite from the turmoil following the finding of Mrs. Sheatsley's body and the complete failure of an attempt to unravel the mystery.

The pastor said he was more convinced than ever that his wife died of her own free will during a fit of insanity.

Only One Mild Case Smallpox in Bemidji

Bemidji, Minn., Nov. 20.—Only one mild case of smallpox has been reported in the city of Bemidji and with general vaccination danger of an epidemic appears to be remote. It has been stated, however, this should not prevent those who have not taken the ounce of preventive from doing so.

"There may be isolated cases of smallpox," said one of the officials. "And there is always danger of transmission, but with the response that has been met by our appeal for action, there is no danger of a general epidemic."

FALSIFIED FOR PROGRESS OF HIS COMMUNITY

F. W. SUMMERFIELD, AGE 72, BENT AND WHITE-HAIRED, SENTENCED

MUST SERVE THREE YEARS AT HARD LABOR IN PENITENTIARY

(By United Press)
Olmsted, Minn., Nov. 30.—A man 72 years old who falsified bank accounts for the progress of his community started to pay the price today.

F. W. Summerfield, white-haired and bent, pleaded guilty to forgery in the second degree late yesterday and was sentenced to serve not more than three years at hard labor in the state penitentiary.

"It has been charged that we are becoming a nation without conscience," said Judge Baker. "It is because men like you, in high offices, are betraying their trust. You held a position of trust with an institution which had the faith of the people of your community. You have pleaded guilty to betraying that trust. You are old, but you must pay the price."

Summerfield will go to prison today. He is glad it is all over. "We live and learn," he said, "and no matter where we are, we learn. There is no justification for a misdeed, no matter what altruistic motives we may have."

The former banker, it was brought out, had been too liberal in extending his bank's credit to his friends and had misused funds. He made restoration, but the law had to be satisfied.

He disappeared from Minnesota a month ago and went to Texas. There his conscience punished him and without funds he started to walk back to Minnesota. He finally reached Echo, where his bank was located, a sick man. He tried to work, but could not. Then the sheriff came.

(By United Press)
London, Nov. 20.—The suit of Charles Ernest Robinson, a bookmaker, against the Midland bank for 125,000 pounds, involving a mysterious plot whereby an unnamed Eastern potentate was blackmailed of 150,000 pounds in the belief that he was keeping his name from the divorce courts, was resumed today before a crowded courtroom as all London gasped at the astounding conspiracy.

The suit involved the love of an Oriental potentate for an English woman, payment of enormous blackmail sum to a man he believed to be her husband, theft of all but 25,000 pounds of the money by bank fraud conspiracies and scenes of conspiracy and blackmail in Europe.

According to the story, the Eastern potentate holds a position so high that should his name be brought into the case, it would have caused international complications.

His cancelled checks were shown to the jury with the signature covered with paper, and the signer has been referred to throughout the trial as Mr. A.

The case involves the admitted treachery of Mr. A.'s British officer aid-de-camp whom the government assigned to protect him during his travels in this country. His aid's name has also been suppressed to prevent a checkup of the identity of Mr. A.

CURSE OF FAMOUS HOPE DIAMOND UPON MAY YOHE

ACTRESS AND ONE-TIME POSSESSOR OF JEWEL, NOW WIFE OF JOHN SMUTS

LATTER FOUND SUFFERING FROM GUNSHOT WOUND IN CHEST

(By United Press)
Boston, Nov. 20.—The curse of the famous Hope Diamond is again upon May Yohe, actress and one-time possessor of the diamond, now the wife of Capt. John A. Smuts, who is in a serious condition at a hospital here, suffering from a gunshot wound in the chest.

Mrs. Smuts called physicians and the police last night when after hearing a shot she found her husband lying on the floor of an adjoining room of their apartment, bleeding from a bullet wound.

Police found a note signed by Smuts which read "I intend to shoot myself because I have been unkind to my wife."

At the hospital, however, Smuts, a cousin of General Jan Smuts of South Africa, said he had accidentally shot himself while cleaning his revolver. Smuts is the actress' third husband. It was while she was Lady Hope as the wife of Lord Francis Hope that she was in possession of the Hope diamond, which is supposed to bring ill luck on all who wear it.

It was this sinister influence which made her run away from Lord Hope and marry Major Putnam Strong, she claims.

Ill luck still followed her, however, and she was driven to singing in a cabaret on the Barbary coast in San Francisco.

Later she married Capt. Smuts and she blames the Hope diamond for this latest tragedy in her life.

SIX BACKWOODSMEN EXPRESS THEIR OPINION IN THE MATTER

(By United Press)
Warroad, Minn., Nov. 20.—More strange than mysterious, the death of Mrs. Elsie Wheeler in a lonely cabin on the Minnesota frontier was solved today.

She fell on a butcher knife while preparing to slice noodles.

There were no witnesses to swear it was the truth, but Coroner Norris and Sheriff Slind who took the long arm of the law around the end of Muskeg Bay to the north side of the Lake of the Woods, are satisfied that is what happened. A coroner's jury of six backwoodsmen brought in the verdict that she came to her death by "accidentally falling on a butcher knife held in her own hand."

The body of the unfortunate woman was brought here by the party which circled the lake shore in a small touring car. It will be taken back to Clearwater, Kans., for burial.

St. Paul, Nov. 20.—Police shortly before noon today arrested Jimmy Connelly, former twin city newspaper man, in connection with a recent $100,000 robbery in St. Louis.

When searched at the station $5,000 in bonds was found in Connelly's possession.

Connelly was involved in the huge stolen bond swindle in the twin cities several years ago but there was not sufficient evidence at the time to secure a conviction.

MORE STRANGE

WAS HER DEATHCORONER'S JURY SAYS MRS. EL-SIE WHEELER FELL ON BUT-
CHER KNIFE SHE HELDSIX BACKWOODSMEN EXPRESS THEIR OPINION IN THE MATTER

(By United Press)
Warroad, Minn., Nov. 20.—More strange than mysterious, the death of Mrs. Elsie Wheeler in a lonely cabin on the Minnesota frontier was solved today.

She fell on a butcher knife while preparing to slice noodles.

There were no witnesses to swear it was the truth, but Coroner Norris and Sheriff Slind who took the long arm of the law around the end of Muskeg Bay to the north side of the Lake of the Woods, are satisfied that is what happened. A coroner's jury of six backwoodsmen brought in the verdict that she came to her death by "accidentally falling on a butcher knife held in her own hand."

The body of the unfortunate woman was brought here by the party which circled the lake shore in a small touring car. It will be taken back to Clearwater, Kans., for burial.

ENGINE FLUES,
OVERHEATED, DO
$30,000 DAMAGE

Little Falls, Minn., Nov. 20.—An explosion in the temporary power plant at the Blanchard Rapids dam at 4:30 yesterday afternoon completely wrecked the building and caused a loss estimated at $30,000. Overheated flues in the engine caused the explosion, according to information received at this office. R. C. Miller, engineer, received slight burns about the face and neck when he attempted to reach the fire extinguisher and put out the blaze. S. A. Thompson, electrician, was severely cut on the hand when he escaped through a window.

The plant was used to generate power in the construction of the dam, and as a result of the explosion work at the dam was at a standstill today. The engine which was wrecked is valued at about $12,000.—Little Falls Daily Transcript.

STRICKEN LABORER,
THOUGHT PENILESS

St. Paul, Nov. 20.—A man, supposedly penniless, who dropped dead on a Minneapolis street Sunday was disclosed today as owner of a $20,000 estate.

The man, James Edwards, 52, garbed as a laborer, was stricken as he passed the postoffice. A paper in his pocket gave the address of a cheap workman's hotel in the Gateway district. Search was begun for relatives by Coroner Gilbert Seashore.

Visiting the man's hotel room today to discover possible clues to relatives, Coroner Seashore discovered dozens of bonds and mortgages worth $20,000, together with the name of a brother living in Cornwall, England. More than $200 in cash was in the clothing of the man, who worked as a granite cutter.

MANY KINDRED
STOCKSBELIEVED BIG CRUDE COMPANIES
MAY ADVANCE
PRICES

(By United Press)
New York, Nov. 20.—The Stock Exchange boiled through the fourteenth day of the great post-election boom today with prices steadily rising and an immense volume of business crossing the counters of brokerage houses and on the floors of the Exchange. Transactions totalled $1,926,000 at 2 p. m., another tremendous day for the Exchange.

After a strong upward trend in the morning by various stocks, headed by steel common, which reached $1.60, its highest level since 1916, irregularity developed during the afternoon, although bullish enthusiasm in special groups was unabated.

Pacific Oil, Maryland, Standard of New Jersey and Invinible were influenced in a showing of strength in oil, reflecting what the Street considers the strong influential position of these companies. It is believed that the big crude companies will advance prices at least 50 cents a barrel for mid-continent grade after taking advantage of present prices for inventories on which their taxes are based, while grades of crude such as those from Tomkawa, Okla., fields already are commanding a premium of 40 cents a barrel.

(By United Press)
Norfolk, Va., Nov. 20.—The almost completed dreadnaught Washington will become a target for shells and bombs in the naval experimental tests when an attempt will be made to destroy her off the southern drill grounds by naval gunners.

Rear Admiral Hughes will direct depth bombing tests on the armor of the vessel which will test the effect of concussion of underwater charges against armor plate. Following this experiment seaplanes will drop missiles from an altitude of 3,000 feet on the deck of the doomed ship, and last the battleship Texas which left here yesterday with a naval board of experts, will cut loose with her big guns in an effort to rip the Washington pieces.

Minneapolis, Nov. 20.—An amendment to the election laws to require closing of the polls at 7 p. m. instead of 9 p. m. will be asked of the next legislature, members of the council said Wednesday.

Henry N. Knott, city clerk, said such a law would save the city several thousand dollars each election year in salaries of election officials.

TRY TETRA ETHYL ON ANIMALS

(By United Press)
New York, Nov. 20.—Experiments conducted by the U. S. Bureau of Mines on a small menagerie of animals show, thus far, that gasoline containing tetra-ethyl lead is not more dangerous with this ingredient than without it, according to the official journal of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

The journal warns against the hasty passage of legislation to prevent the use of lead or other substances which make fumes dangerous to motorists. The death of several Standard Oil employees in New Jersey, he thinks, does not necessarily indicate carelessness.

"During the war extensive experiments were carried out to discover a dope for gasoline that would increase its effectiveness and power in motor-driven vehicles," says the journal. "By the accidental suggestion of a non-technical man connected with one of the large copper refining companies which produced, as a by-product, considerable quantities of tellurium, for which there was no known commercial use, it was discovered that tellurium could be used as a dope with marvelous results.

Demand Not Met
"One of the largest motor companies of the country, after extensive tests, became convinced of the value of tellurium for this purpose. However, the total production of tellurium in this country was only about one per cent of what they estimated would be the normal demand, so that tellurium was dropped and still remains a metallurgical monstrosity without any practical use.

"Further experiments revealed the fact that tetra-ethyl lead was more efficacious than tellurium. The General Motors Company, the Standard Oil Company, and the Du Pont Company have been making experiments, and a commercial process for the production of tetra-ethyl lead has been worked out and a great quantity of gasoline has been sold with this ingredient as a dope and a very large public demand has grown up.

"The product brings an increased price but tends to eliminate the knock and other motor troubles and that, from this standpoint, it is desirable by the motoring public is evidenced by the increasing demand at filling stations.

"During the last week in October fatalities began to result in the Bayway Laboratory and plant of the Standard Oil Company which were attributed to this gas. Of the forty-five employees there, five have died and only ten have remained unaffected.

YOUNG MEN'S CLUB OF THE "Y"

J. H. Eckford, Secretary Young Men's Division Minneapolis "Y" Explains Plan

WORK DONE BY DIVISION

Temporary Organization Formed Here With Clifford Welsh as Chairman

Young men of the city met on last Thursday evening at the local Y. M. C. A. to discuss the organization of a young men's club. J. H. Eckford, secretary of the young men's division of the Minneapolis Y. M. C. A., was present and explained the work that is being done in his division.

All of the young men present were very enthusiastic over the prospects of such a club in Brainerd, and immediately formed a temporary organization with Clifford Welsh as temporary chairman, and Gerhart Flaata temporary secretary.

The purpose of this young men's club is four-fold: physical, mental, social and devotional, or character building. It is hoped to interest a great many of the young fellows of the city in the project.

The temporary organization meets again on this Thursday evening, at which time the constitution committee will report and final plans perfected for the permanent club.

The membership is to be limited in this club, for efficiency, but within the week it is planned to start other similar clubs between which there will be much friendly rivalry and competition. Mr. Eckford has already invited the club from Brainerd with the best record to be the guests of the young men's division of the Minneapolis Y. M. C. A. at its annual club banquet early in the spring, and it is expected that all of the local clubs will exert every effort to take advantage of this invitation.

The Brainerd Hi-Y club is making plans to send four or five of its members to the Older Boys' Conference of Northern Minnesota, which is to be held in Duluth on the 5th, 6th and 7th of December. The committee in charge is seeking to make this the finest boys' conference that has ever been held in the state, and indications are that they will not be disappointed.

On the program will be several of the most outstanding religious thinkers of the northwest, two who have a national reputation. They will present questions of a social and religious nature which every boy has to face and in small groups under competent guidance the boys will work out their own solutions to the problems raised. Men who are authorities in Sunday school work, Hi-Y clubs, employed boys' clubs, young peoples groups and Boy Scouts will be there to present the latest improved methods of boys work. Arrangements have been made to hold the big Saturday night banquet in the Masonic Temple and a splendid program is being arranged for that occasion. The chairman of the committee for Saturday afternoon recreation has a number of ideas up his sleeve and is prepared to thwart the weatherman in every move he makes on that afternoon.

It is expected that about 300 boys from over the northern part of the state will be in attendance and the committee on local enrollment have set their goal at 200. The committee in charge of securing housing expect to have no difficulty whatsoever in securing homes for the out-of-town delegates. Churches and civic clubs are co-operating splendidly and the conference promises to be one that the delegates shall not soon forget.

Secretary Alfred Dillan announces that the junior gymnasium classes will be started on Friday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. All boys between the ages of eleven and fourteen years are urged to join these classes and to bring tennis shoes.

The gymnasium at the Y. M. C. A. has just been thoroughly renovated and the floor freshly varnished. It is in fine shape for the heavy use to

WHO SHAVED THE EDITOR?

SOMEBODY must have given the editor of the "Master Barber" a poor shave, for Henry Wever denounced hot towels, close shaving and facial massage when he addressed the first annual convention of the Associated Master Barbers of America, in session at Chicago.

We barber patrons, who sit and lounge about waiting for the call of "Next," and who read all the barbershop literature from the daily papers to the Literary Digest and Saturday Evening Post and the lodge papers of the boss of the shop and Fitch's business organ, knew the Master Barbers were going to effect some kind of an organization for the benefit of the craft. The barber journals said so.

But nobody had the least idea that the editor of the barber journal would launch into such a diatribe, assailing every point that patrons have become accustomed to, inured as it were. You put a luke-warm or cold towel on a patron's face and he kicks. You know this sometimes happens when the janitor forgets to keep a full head of steam.

And everybody considers he hasn't got his two bits' worth if he is not given a second shave. As to facial massage, the men are getting about as many as the women in the beauty shops.

Well, here is what a press report indicates as the gist of Wever's revolutionary pronouncement, sufficient to almost shake the craft asunder, and quoted from a report published in the Duluth News Tribune of Wednesday morning:

"A hot towel," he said, "is entirely out of order if it is hotter than blood heat. It reduces the face to mush. A twice-over shave is a crime in every sense of the word and done only to add a frill to the original operation. It takes too much of the skin surface off and leaves the face raw. The powder the barber puts on will not save the skin.

"The facial massage as popularly given by barbers and women operatives, is too severe for the safety of the delicate structures of the face. The barber must always be careful with his client's face for the muscles are easily deformed and the features spoiled."

After Wever told everything that a barber must not do, he forgot to lay down the law, except in a general way, on what the barber should do.

KNUTE NELSON—AMERICAN CITIZEN

THIS is not merely a campaign to raise money, but a movement to arouse a spirit of true Americanism so splendidly typified by the late Senator Nelson, writes Charles J. Moos, secretary of the Knute Nelson Memorial Committee.

Partisanship should have no part whatever in this memorial. A keener loyalty and a quickened sense of devotion to the country will be a memorial which Knute Nelson would most desire.

The Knute Nelson Memorial Committee is organized for the purpose of giving Minnesotans and others an opportunity to contribute funds for a permanent memorial to Knute Nelson to be erected on the State Capitol grounds. A memorial to him will be a perpetual stimulus to young men and young women of what they can achieve in character and deeds—a rededication to the patriotism and unselfish service of country which characterized his life.

Knute Nelson is removed from the field of partisan politics. His memory is the common heritage of all Americans. Men and women of all parties have an equal right to do him honor.

Senator Nelson's courage, unselfish service, love of country and righteousness, his wisdom, are qualities which have endeared him to the people of Minnesota and the nation. His memory will inspire future generations.

This memorial should be provided by a great free-will gift—every person should be given an opportunity to voluntarily express their remembrance of the man who so nobly served his country.

A large number of subscriptions to this fund, no matter how small the individual subscription may be, will in itself constitute a memorial more fitting than that which can be purchased with money.

Least of all should any pressure be brought to bear on anyone in order to secure a subscription. No one will be urged to contribute against his or her will. Therefore the goal should be numerical as well as financial.

AN OLD YUKON LEGEND

THERE used to be an old legend in the Yukon, Alaskan country, of the prospector who could not keep warm in his little cabin when the mercury slipped to 60 below, so he crawled into his little stove and kept warm there. This difficult task, according to the coroner of Columbus, Ohio, seems to have been duplicated in a recent mysterious death, where the charred remains of a woman were found in the furnace of her home.

The coroner in question wanted to issue a verdict of suicide, maintaining the woman had opened the little furnace door, had crawled in and laid down on the red-hot coals to die.

CHAIN YOUR NOODLES

WE learn more every day, and the latest is that noodles are so dangerous they should be chained. A coroner's jury of back-woodsmen in the Angle County of the backwoods away up in northern Minnesota, has decided that a woman came to her death in her cabin because she fell on a butcher knife while preparing to slice noodles.

WE have heard of beer and rum raiders, but "water raiding" is something new, and has occurred out near Line Pine, California, where a band of men has objected to having water diverted from the reservoir to Los Angeles, while their own gulches and valleys continue dry and arid.

NINETEEN above zero is warm weather in the Brainerd banana belt. In New York, however, people shiver and ten died as the result of this "cold wave."

ALICE TERRY

Famous Blonde, Alice Terry, Has Red-Brown Hair

Since Alice Terry first flashed into fame as the heroine of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," she has been identified in the minds of her admirers as one of the loveliest blondes who ever appeared on the screen.

And now comes a surprise.

When Rex Ingram's new Metro picture, "The Arab," is seen at the New Park tonight and Friday, Miss Terry will be revealed as a dark-haired beauty. And the hair is her own!

It is disillusioning to think that Miss Terry was never a blonde, really, but the truth will out and "The Arab" gives truth its opportunity.

Miss Terry's hair is, in fact, reddish brown, a glorious auburn of fiery tints, but, on the screen, it shows dark.

And, instead of being piled high in golden waves, as picture-goers remember it in "Scaramouche," "The Prisoner of Zenda," and other Ingram successes, it is bobbed!

It is because her hair was bobbed that Miss Terry wore a wig in her other pictures, which emphasized romantic rather than modern styles.

Farnum Gets Big Chance in Thrilling "Covered Wagon" Story at Lyceum

In "Kentucky Days," which opens at the Lyceum theatre tonight for a run of two days, William Fox presents Dustin Farnum in a photoplay that deals with the most romantic and interesting period of American history and, incidentally, gives Mr. Farnum one of the big dramatic opportunities of his long cinematic career.

Mr. Farnum, as John Buckner, plays one of those sturdy pioneers upon whose broad shoulders the republic was built. He is one of the "49ers" to whom fear was something vague and incomprehensible and whose loves and hates consumed his being. John Lunch has written a compelling, picturesque story around this character that has all the strength of the man himself.

Forman Directed "Roaring Rails"

Just as further proof that he is sparing neither time nor money to make his series of Harry Carey features the most successful of any pictures the popular western star has made, Hunt Stromberg signed Tom Forman to direct "Roaring Rails," his fourth Carey feature, which comes to the Lyceum theatre Saturday, one day only.

"Roaring Rails" comes very highly recommended by the Lyceum management.

Perfumes did not come into vogue in England until the reign of Queen Elizabeth in the Fifteenth century. But in Scotland even as late as 1763 there were no manufacturers of perfumes on any extensive scale.

WHO SHAVED THE EDITOR?

SOMEBODY must have given the editor of the "Master Barber" a poor shave, for Henry Wever denounced hot towels, close shaving and facial massage when he addressed the first annual convention of the Associated Master Barbers of America, in session at Chicago.

We barber patrons, who sit and lounge about waiting for the call of "Next," and who read all the barbershop literature from the daily papers to the Literary Digest and Saturday Evening Post and the lodge papers of the boss of the shop and Fitch's business organ, knew the Master Barbers were going to effect some kind of an organization for the benefit of the craft. The barber journals said so.

But nobody had the least idea that the editor of the barber journal would launch into such a diatribe, assailing every point that patrons have become accustomed to, inured as it were. You put a luke-warm or cold towel on a patron's face and he kicks. You know this sometimes happens when the janitor forgets to keep a full head of steam.

And everybody considers he hasn't got his two bits' worth if he is not given a second shave. As to facial massage, the men are getting about as many as the women in the beauty shops.

Martyr-Soldier's Bible
Given Place of Honor

In the king's private library at Windsor castle, as well as in the king's library at the British museum, the Bibles are a special feature, and if it were possible to imagine these treasures being put up to auction at one of the famous salesrooms, all the collectors in the world would gather to bid for them.

But it is not an illuminated Bible, over which some monk spent half a lifetime, or the earliest printed Bible, or a "Breeches" Bible, or even a "Bugge" Bible—so called because it says, in a certain well-known psalm: "Thou shalt not be afraid for any bugges by night"—which is the best-guarded and most honored copy of the Scriptures.

This distinction belongs to a worn, even tattered copy of the Scriptures, just the ordinary limp-backed little Bible which thousands of people take to church or keep in readiness there. This Bible lies open, upon a beautiful cushion, enclosed in an exquisite old casket, in a window of Windsor castle.

The open page is much soiled and thumbed, certain passages are underlined and there are numerous penciled notes in the margin. This is General Gordon's Bible, given by his sister to Queen Victoria.—London Tit-Bits.

Thought for Next Day
Has No Place in Congo

In many parts of the Congo horses are unknown and the natives are as terrified at them as at an elephant or a hippo, says Mme. Gabrielle M. Vassal in the London Graphic.

Though the food ration of the Congo natives is most frugal, consisting chiefly of manioc, it is at least regular, and in this starving country is the chief attraction to them and keeps them as a whole cheerful and healthy. The Congo population is always hungry, if not starving; it is impossible to sound the depths of their laziness and want of thrift. They never think of the next day. When they are paid they buy a white helmet, a tweed cap or a knitted tam-o'-shanter, though their thick frizzled hair really needs no covering. The reason for cannibalism in the Congo is hunger more than anything else, says Mme. Vassal.

Thought He Was Singing

From the well-known big-game hunter, F. C. Cornell, comes the story of how one evening he was returning to camp in South Africa from a prospecting expedition, unarmed and alone, when, to his horror, he found himself stalked by three leopards.

"Knowing from experience that most wild beasts are frightened by the human voice," says Mr. Cornell, "I let out a yell that scared even myself, and repeated the dose every few yards of the way back, until I was as hoarse as a crow, and my yells began to lack vim.

"'Bit pleased with yourself, ain't you?' was my welcome on reaching camp. 'We heard you singing for the last hour or more. Thought you might have struck someone with whisky.'"—San Francisco Argonaut.

First Use of Envelopes

Envelopes were not in common use until about 1820. In 1826 Lamb mentions the envelope and in "Harry Lorrequer," published by Charles Lever in 1837, is this quotation: "The waiter entered with a small note in an envelope." It is claimed that envelopes were used in France before they were introduced in England, and there seems to be good ground for the claim. When they first came on the French market they were very dainty novelties and were made from the most expensive and delicate papers. They were used only by the wealthy and were considered a fad. They were used by the public in England in a limited way between 1830 and 1839.—Pathfinder Magazine.

How Birds Bathe

The most elaborate dressers of the animal world are the birds, all of whom take baths whenever possible. Some of them use earth, sand or dust. When these find a suitable spot they scratch up the surface and then shuffle backward, moving legs and wings and working the grit right through their feathers.

Most birds, however, are water bathers. Some, such as the kingfisher, plunge right in. This bird usually dives from a branch, entering the water with open wings and making a great splash. In addition to his morning toilet, the kingfisher has a complete bath after eating fish that he catches; so that he often takes a dozen headers during the day.

Throw Hats at Candidates

The word "hetman" is a title given to the commander in chief of the Cossacks, annually chosen from among their number. The process of selection offers a contrast to the American custom of figuratively throwing one's hat in the ring as a sign of willingness to accept the nomination to office. Among the Cossacks it was the custom while in assembly to throw their fur caps at the candidates for whom they voted, and the one receiving the greatest number was declared elected.—Baltimore Sun.

Pay Attention to Values

The man who insists on full value for his dollar generally accumulates wealth. If more attention were given to values, more men would get rich. The relation of price to value is the most important study in economics.—Gilt.

ALIBIS AND OTHER THINGS

(Charlie Pivot, in Bridgeton, N. J., Evening News)

The democratic national committee is understood to have held a stewed crow dinner last evening at the organization's club house on Salt River. Alibi Ike, chairman of the grievance committee, was the principal orator and five microphones carried his touching words into the homes of democrats generally.

"Gentlemen of the democracy," Mr. Ike said. "We have been undone. We are victims of 'Coolidge' luck." The Washington American league team won the league pennant and the world's championship and the president attended the games and got so much publicity that the election was turned around on its axis. Then, too, our dear party 'blundered' terribly. Mr. Davis selected that absolutely useless squirrel 'Charlie' Bryan for his running mate and that cost us 3,658,902 votes. Chief Cook Walsh let the 'teapot' boil over and that made such a smell that most of the guests left the dining room of what we thought was our most attractive hotel.

"LaFollette double-crossed us. He promised to take a lot of votes from the republicans for our benefit and instead he took them from our party. He was a great big bluff and didn't carry out his promise to throw the election into Congress. I suggest that we cancel his associate membership in our party and ask him to return his door key.

"And whoever selected this barber, 'Clem' Shaver, should be taken off the nominating committee for life. He hasn't found out yet what it is all about. He lost West Virginia and Bryan lost Nebraska and instead of having any new states we lost a couple of old ones.

"Gentlemen, I suggest that four years from now we hold our national convention on Chincoteague Island and that we all talk a little lower. Somebody overheard what we said at Madison Square Garden, about the Klan, the League of Nations, about McAdoo and Smith and they told on us. That cost us just 2,895,743 votes that I know of. And this guy Mc-

Adoo, who started all the fuss, next went to Europe and then got sick and he never even mended the stuff he broke.

"I regret the necessity of calling your attention to these little eccentricities among our membership but somebody has to explain why we were so unmercifully licked and why Davis polled 1,000,000 less than Cox did four years ago, despite the greatly increased vote. The rest of my committee on grievances are still out canvassing the complaints and they will make a full report at the next meeting which will be on April 1, 1925, at Louisville, Kentucky. I thank you!"

Uncle Eben
"Lendin' money to a friend," said Uncle Eben, "is g'warter show you which he values most, de friendship or de money."—Washington Star.

Chinese vs. English
Throughout the world more than twice as many people speak Chinese as English.

Geese and Pillows
An idea of the number of geese that are plucked to supply feathers for pillows may be gained from the fact that the feathers on 90,000 geese were used for the pillows of a hotel recently opened.

Famous English Dwarf
Sir Jeffery Hudson was a noted English dwarf of the seventeenth century. He was only 20 inches tall until he was nearly 30 years old; then he grew to 3 feet 9 inches.

Buttons From Milk
Compressed casein, that is, dried milk, treated with acid and subjected to high hydraulic pressure, is being used extensively for button-making today, though a quarter of a century ago this substance was unknown. Some of these "milk buttons" are very beautiful.

Martyr-Soldier's Bible Given Place of Honor

In the king's private library at Windsor castle, as well as in the king's library at the British museum, the Bibles are a special feature, and if it were possible to imagine these treasures being put up to auction at one of the famous salesrooms, all the collectors in the world would gather to bid for them.

But it is not an illuminated Bible, over which some monk spent half a lifetime, or the earliest printed Bible, or a "Breeches" Bible, or even a "Bugge" Bible—so called because it says, in a certain well-known psalm: "Thou shalt not be afraid for any bugges by night"—which is the best-guarded and most honored copy of the Scriptures.

This distinction belongs to a worn, even tattered copy of the Scriptures, just the ordinary limp-backed little Bible which thousands of people take to church or keep in readiness there. This Bible lies open, upon a beautiful cushion, enclosed in an exquisite old casket, in a window of Windsor castle. The open page is much soiled and thumbled, certain passages are underlined and there are numerous penciled notes in the margin. This is General Gordon's Bible, given by his sister to Queen Victoria.—London Tit-Bits.

Thought for Next Day Has No Place in Congo

In many parts of the Congo horses are unknown and the natives are as terrified at them as at an elephant or a hippo, says Mme. Gabrielle M. Vassal in the London Graphic.

Though the food ration of the Congo natives is most frugal, consisting chiefly of manioc, it is at least regular, and in this starving country is the chief attraction to them and keeps them as a whole cheerful and healthy. The Congo population is always hungry, if not starving; it is impossible to sound the depths of their laziness and want of thrift. They never think of the next day. When they are paid they buy a white helmet, a tweed cap or a knitted tan-o-shanter, though their thick frizzled hair really needs no covering. The reason for cannibalism in the Congo is hunger more than anything else, says Mme. Vassal.

Thought He Was Singing

From the well-known big-game hunter, F. C. Cornell, comes the story of how one evening he was returning to camp in South Africa from a prospecting expedition, unarmed and alone, when, to his horror, he found himself stalked by three leopards.

"Knowing from experience that most wild beasts are frightened by the human voice," says Mr. Cornell, "I let out a yell that scared even myself, and repeated the dose every few yards of the way back, until I was as hoarse as a crow, and my yells began to lack vim.

"'Bit pleased with yourself, ain't you?' was my welcome on reaching camp. 'We heard you singing for the last hour or more. Thought you might have struck someone with whisky.'"—San Francisco Argonaut.

First Use of Envelopes

Envelopes were not in common use until about 1820. In 1825 Lamb mentions the envelope and in "Harry Lorrequer," published by Charles Lever in 1837, is this quotation: "The waiter entered with a small note in an envelope." It is claimed that envelopes were used in France before they were introduced in England, and there seems to be good ground for the claim. When they first came on the French market they were very dainty novelties and were made from the most expensive and delicate papers. They were used only by the wealthy and were considered a fad. They were used by the public in England in a limited way between 1830 and 1839.—Pathfinder Magazine.

How Birds Bathe

The most elaborate dressers of the animal world are the birds, all of whom take baths whenever possible. Some of them use earth, sand or dust. When these find a suitable spot they scratch up the surface and then shuffle backward, moving legs and wings and working the grit right through their feathers.

Most birds, however, are water bathers. Some, such as the kingfisher, plunge right in. This bird usually dives from a branch, entering the water with open wings and making a great splash. In addition to his morning toilet, the kingfisher has a complete bath after eating fish that he catches; so that he often takes a dozen headers during the day.

Throw Hats at Candidates

The word "hetman" is a title given to the commander in chief of the Cossacks, annually chosen from among their number. The process of selection offers a contrast to the American custom of figuratively throwing one's hat in the ring as a sign of willingness to accept the nomination to office. Among the Cossacks it was the custom while in assembly to throw their fur caps at the candidates for whom they voted, and the one receiving the greatest number was declared elected.—Baltimore Sun.

Pay Attention to Values

The man who insists on full value for his dollar generally accumulates wealth. If more attention were given to values, more men would get rich. The relation of price to value is the most important study in economics.—Grit.

ALIBIS AND OTHER THINGS

(Charlie Pivot, in Bridgeton, N. J., Evening News)

The democratic national committee is understood to have held a stewed crow dinner last evening at the organization's club house on Salt River. Alibi Ike, chairman of the grievance committee, was the principal orator and five microphones carried his touching words into the homes of democrats generally.

"Gentlemen of the democracy," Mr. Ike said. "We have been undone. We are victims of 'Coolidge luck.' The Washington American league team won the league pennant and the world's championship and the president attended the games and got so much publicity that the election was turned around on its axis. Then, too, our dear party 'blundered' terribly. Mr. Davis selected that absolutely useless squirrel 'Charlie' Bryan for his running mate and that cost us 3,658,902 votes. Chief Cook Walsh let the 'teapot' boil over and that made such a smell that most of the guests left the dining room of what we thought was our most attractive hotel.

"LaFollette double-crossed us. He promised to take a lot of votes from the republicans for our benefit and instead he took them from our party. He was a great big bluff and didn't carry out his promise to throw the election into Congress. I suggest that we cancel his associate membership in our party and ask him to return his door key.

"And whoever selected this barber, 'Clem' Shaver, should be taken off the nominating committee for life. He hasn't found out yet what it is all about. He lost West Virginia and Bryan lost Nebraska and instead of having any new states we lost a couple of old ones.

"Gentlemen, I suggest that four years from now we hold our national convention on Chincooteague Island and that we all talk a little lower. Somebody overheard what we said at Madison Square Garden, about the Klan, the League of Nations, about McAdoo and Smith and they told on us. That cost us just 2,805,743 votes that I know of. And this guy Mc-

Adoo, who started all the fuss, next went to Europe and then got sick and he never even mended the stuff he broke.

"I regret the necessity of calling your attention to these little eccentricities among our membership but somebody has to explain why we were so unmercifully licked and why Davis polled 1,000,000 less than Cox did four years ago, despite the greatly increased vote. The rest of my committee on grievances are still out canvassing the complaints and they will make a full report at the next meeting which will be on April 1, 1925, at Louisville, Kentucky. I thank you!"

Uncle Eben

"Lendin' money to a friend," said Uncle Eben, "is g'inter show you which he values most, de friendship or de money."—Washington Star.

Chinese vs. English

Throughout the world more than twice as many people speak Chinese as English.

Geese and Pillows

An idea of the number of geese that are plucked to supply feathers for pillows may be gained from the fact that the feathers on 90,000 geese were used for the pillows of a hotel recently opened.

Famous English Dwarf

Sir Jeffery Hudson was a noted English dwarf of the Seventeenth century. He was only 20 inches tall until he was nearly 30 years old; then he grew to 3 feet 9 inches.

Buttons From Milk

Compressed casein, that is, dried milk, treated with acid and subjected to high hydraulic pressure, is being used extensively for button-making today, though a quarter of a century ago this substance was unknown. Some of these "milk buttons" are very beautiful.

WHY I TRADE IN BRAINERD

I trade in Brainerd because it is my "home town." I believe it to be the duty of every citizen.

I am sure that most of the people depend upon the city nearest to them as their market place, also to help them in case of necessity.

We all expect to sell our products to our "home town," so shall we not also buy our clothing, machinery and other articles from them? It is my opinion that we should do so.

By trading in your "home town" it would be more progressive and could offer more and better advantages.

I trade in Brainerd because it is more convenient for me to do so.

Because our home merchants thru years of honorable dealing have built up an enviable reputation for reliability which has won my confidence.

Not being an expert on quality and admitting it, the home merchant will give me the benefit of his experience and knowledge of quality in helping me make a wise selection, and always at a reasonable price, quality considered.

And the strongest reason is, I am sometimes able to work the home merchant for a little credit.

2. If we send for food and clothing to mail order houses, all stores in Brainerd because of no trade would have to close and in a year or so Brainerd would look like a desert.

3. I want the money to circulate in Brainerd, improvements to be done, buildings to be erected, parks with flowers and terraces spread out and school and educational work to go on.

4. Goods bought from merchants at home will fit and outwear goods we receive from catalogue houses.

MISS MILDRED HAGBERG,

I trade in Brainerd because I am proud of my home town. When I spend money at home I know that at least a part of it will remain here and go towards paying taxes, clerk hire, rent, advertising and many other things. Then too, Brainerd merchants carry up to date stocks of merchandise and many of them advertise them at prices just as cheap if not cheaper than the city stores do.

Money spent away from home never comes back. What a wonderful city we would have by trading at home. We would soon have a new high school.

Curious Beliefs Held by Trinidad Natives

"Port of Spain is the principal city of the island of Trinidad in the West Indies and is the most colorful and cosmopolitan city in the world," says an American citizen, who has returned to his native land for a visit after an absence of two years, according to the Detroit News. "The streets of Port of Spain," he says, "present the appearance of a strange pageantry, so varied are the people. Strangest of all are the native black people. Here you will see nose rings and all sorts of weird styles in hairdressing. They are so fond of bracelets that their forearms, from wrist to elbow, are completely covered with all sorts of metal circles. Nor is it unusual to see their lower limbs adorned in the same fashion.

"All our servants are these black people. They are excellent servants, but their many taboos and superstitions are very trying, unless you have a good sense of humor. They go by the moon and stars in everything. They refuse any sort of an undertaking unless the aspect of the moon is propitious. They also have special taboos pertaining to things hot and cold. None of them will, under any circumstances, put their hands into both hot and cold water on the same day. They believe that if they do this they will die in three days. By the moon they reckon time and forecast the future. By the moon they hold their pagan ceremonies, and one might say that by the moon they live and by the moon they die."

TRY SULPHUR ON AN ECZEMA SKIN

Costs Little and Overcomes Trouble Almost Over Night

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment without delay. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur and use it like cold cream.

LONE SURVIVOR FIGHTS FOR FAMILY NAME

(By United Press)

Paris, Nov. 20.—Over thirty-three years after a sensational murder trial at Epinal, in the Vosges, a judiciary commission has been appointed to investigate the circumstances of the crime and the justice of the verdict. In the meantime, all three of the condemned have died, one in an asylum for the insane, one in a foreign French prison camp, and one from shame and despair. There is no parallel for this strange case in all French legal history.

In March, 1891, three members of a family named Adam were tried for the murder of an old woman, the widow Barthelémy. Her death had occurred three years previously, and was completely enveloped in mystery. All that was known was that she had quarrelled with her husband at night and gone to the Adam home in a little peasant village where she lived, and sought lodgings. The next day she disappeared, and two years later her remains were found in a neighboring forest.

After a remarkable trial which intensely stirred the villagers in defense of the accused, Laurent Adam, the head of the house, 53 years old, his wife, Josephine, 47, and their son, Justin, 21, were sentenced to fifteen years in prison. The verdict was reached on purely circumstantial evidence, and was received with great indignation by neighbors who believed the story of the Adam family that the murdered woman was hospitably received by them and remained the night.

The strain of the trial and the sentence cost Madame Adam her reason, and she died shortly afterward in an asylum. The father and son were sent to Guyane, where they repeatedly demanded a new trial and a review of the case was recommended by the prison authorities, but the father died before any action was taken. The son, Justin, was released when his sentence expired, and at the age of 35 years he returned to his native village to begin life again. He opened a business and prospered; he married and had four children, but never ceased his efforts to clear the family name. The law said that in order to have a review of the case he must introduce new evidence, and this he was unable to do. He worried so much over the case, and what he called the inhumanity of his fellow-men, that he finally lost his reason and died in an asylum last year.

The fight for the honor of the family name is now being carried on by the only survivor, Louis Adam, brother of Justin, who has finally been able to produce a sufficient number of witnesses to secure a review of the case. In the meantime the judge sitting at the original trial and most of the important court officials have died. There is now such a great sentiment that a great injustice has been done that the court will probably be persuaded to reverse the verdict and rehabilitate the condemned.

What's the Use?

An animal trainer explained that it is easy to tell when a lion is in a bad humor and likely to spring. The beast's eyes are dilated and the pupils show green. The only trouble about it is that if you are near enough to see the signs of danger it is too late to do anything about it.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Cold weather sounds the gong! Few motors are built to use the same grade of oil all the year 'round. Most motors need lighter oils for winter.

"Northwestern" NOCOLENE is made in five grades; one of those grades is especially refined to satisfy your motor's winter requirements.

Consult a "Northwestern" Lubrication Guide, or ask any Northwestern Service Man or Dealer. They will tell you the exact grade of NOCOLENE, the truly "better" motor oil, to use in your car this winter.

LOST AND FOUND—CALL 74

LONE SURVIVOR FIGHTS FOR FAMILY NAME

(By United Press)

Paris, Nov. 20.—Over thirty-three years after a sensational murder trial at Epinal, in the Vosges, a judiciary commission has been appointed to investigate the circumstances of the crime and the justice of the verdict. In the meantime, all three of the condemned have died, one in an asylum for the insane, one in a foreign French prison camp, and one from shame and despair. There is no parallel for this strange case in all French legal history.

In March, 1891, three members of a family named Adam were tried for the murder of an old woman, the widow Barthelemy. Her death had occurred three years previously, and was completely enveloped in mystery. All that was known was that she had quarrelled with her husband at night and gone to the Adam home in a little peasant village where she lived, and sought lodgings. The next day she disappeared, and two years later her remains were found in a neighboring forest.

After a remarkable trial which intensely stirred the villagers in defense of the accused, Laurent Adam, the head of the house, 53 years old, his wife, Josephine, 47, and their son, Justin, 21, were sentenced to fifteen years in prison. The verdict was reached on purely circumstantial evidence, and was received with great indignation by neighbors who believed the story of the Adam family that the murdered woman was hospitably received by them and remained the night. The strain of the trial and the sentence cost Madame Adam her reason, and she died shortly afterward in an asylum. The father and son were sent to Guyane, where they repeatedly demanded a new trial and a review of the case was recommended by the prison authorities, but the father died before any action was taken. The son, Justin, was released when his sentence expired, and at the age of 35 years he returned to his native village to begin life again. He opened a business and prospered; he married and had four children, but never ceased his efforts to clear the family name. The law said that in order to have a review of the case he must introduce new evidence, and this he was unable to do. He worried so much over the case, and what he called the inhumanity of his fellow-men, that he finally lost his reason and died in an asylum last year.

The fight for the honor of the family name is now being carried on by the only survivor, Louis Adam, brother of Justin, who has finally been able to produce a sufficient number of witnesses to secure a review of the case. In the meantime the judge sitting at the original trial and most of the important court officials have died. There is now such a great sentiment that a great injustice has been done that the court will probably be persuaded to reverse the verdict and rehabilitate the condemned.

What's the Use?

An animal trainer explained that it is easy to tell when a lion is in a bad humor and likely to spring. The beast's eyes are dilated and the pupils show green. The only trouble about it is that if you are near enough to see the signs of danger it is too late to do anything about it.—Pathfinder Magazine.

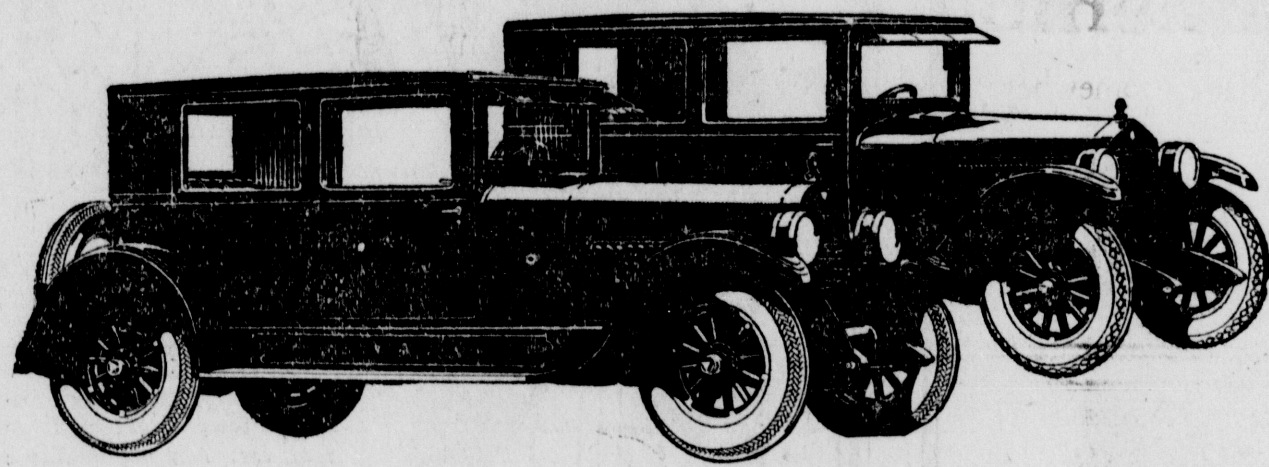

NOCOLENE

Change to Winter Grade!

Cold weather sounds the gong! Few motors are built to use the same grade of oil all the year 'round. Most motors need lighter oils for winter.

"Northwestern" NOCOLENE is made in five grades; one of those grades is especially refined to satisfy your motor's winter requirements.

Consult a "Northwestern" Lubrication Guide, or ask any Northwestern Service Man or Dealer. They will tell you the exact grade of NOCOLENE, the truly "better" motor oil, to use in your car this winter.

Everyone knows the Coach represents highest closed car value.

Not merely because it exclusively provides "Closed Car Comforts at Open Car Cost."

Even more important is the outstanding value in the Hudson and Essex chassis, famous for performance distinction and reliability not equalled by many costlier cars.

OWLETTES WIN MUCH PRAISE

Will Present Program at First Methodist Church Friday, Under Lions' Auspices

TRIO OF CHARMING LADIES

Extension Department University of Minnesota Sponsors Organization

The University of Minnesota's Extension Department praises in glowing terms the program that will be presented by the "Owlettes" at the Methodist church on Friday evening, sponsored by the Brainerd Lions club.

The Extension Department has very carefully chosen the talent which it is offering to Minnesota audiences, and feels that the "Owlettes" is the headline feature in the entertainments that will be given to towns and cities throughout the state this winter. The local Lions club feels that it was very fortunate in inducing the department to include Brainerd in its billing of this attraction.

The "Owlettes" are the Howlette sisters, three charming young ladies, talented artists in their respective lines, who have captivated every audience before whom they have appeared, and who will give Brainerd people a real treat on Friday evening.

Miss Olga Howlette is pianist. She is a graduate of Augustana conservatory and the Quincy college of Fine Arts. Her technic will be a revelation to all who enjoy good music.

Miss Reeda Howlette, violinist, is a graduate of Northwestern university, college of music, and has in addition studied under several prominent teachers of the violin. Her interpretation of this instrument is said to be above that of the average artist, and coupled with her pleasing personality, makes for her a warm friend from everyone in her audience.

Miss Irene Howlette, the third member of the trio, is a very clever monologist and musical reader. She is a graduate of Augustana Conservatory and the Columbia College of Expression. She has the power to move her audiences to laughter or tears at will and completes a well balanced program.

In addition to the individual and collective numbers rendered by these artists, they will offer a humorous dramatic sketch, entitled, "Men, Music and Microbes," a further exhibition of their exceptional talent.

While the Lions club is sponsoring this entertainment, it is being presented by the Extension Department of the University, and if the "Owlettes" are supported locally as it is hoped they will be, it will be possible to receive other programs from the department during the winter.

The general public is urged to support this program and to greet the "Owlettes" with a packed house. Tickets may be secured from members of the Girl Scouts or the Camp-fire Girls, or at the door on the evening of the entertainment which starts at eight o'clock.

DELEGATES TO Y. M. C. A. MEETING

George Harris and Lawrence Ericsson Report on Experiences at Detroit, Mich.

BANQUET WAS PLEASING

Addresses Made by Officials of Railways on Important Topics

Leaving Brainerd on last Wednesday evening, Nov. 12th, George Harris and Lawrence Ericsson went to Detroit, Mich., as delegates from the local Y. M. C. A. and also from the Northern Pacific and Minnesota & International railways respectively, to attend the second annual conference of the Younger Men's Railway Y. M. C. A., held Nov. 14th to 16th inclusive.

Upon arrival in Detroit Friday morning with other delegates from all over the United States and Canada, the boys were taken to the Central Y. M. C. A. by railway officials in their automobiles, where they were assigned to their lodging places and given breakfast, provided in private homes of the railway officials of Detroit.

The conference opened at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon with a song service conducted by George W. Campbell of Chicago. Mr. Campbell was the life of the conference from beginning to end. Following the song service C. C. Robinson of New York, gave a talk on "Getting Started," and assisted in the organization of discussion groups to help a young man choose his life work and further, how to conduct it.

The conference banquet was held on Friday evening at six o'clock in the new Metropolitan Methodist church of Detroit, which structure had just been dedicated and which cost one and one-quarter millions of dollars. There were 279 delegates and 77 leaders at the banquet. C. W. MacLeod of Kenora, Ontario, was chairman, and W. H. Flynn, superintendent of motive power on the Michigan Central railway, acted as toastmaster. The Michigan Central railway orchestra furnished the music of the evening.

Talks were made at this banquet by C. A. Reibling, general baggage agent, Michigan Central; Frank Stoddard, Albuquerque, N. M.; Warren King, St. Paul; John G. Walber, vice president of the New York Central lines, and several other officials of large railways.

The discussion groups held their first session on Saturday morning, after which C. C. Robinson gave an excellent address on "Finding Yourself." An hour later the group discussion classes met again to discuss the "Choosing of a Life Work."

A luncheon meeting was held on Saturday noon at the Cass Technical high school, each group having some man at its table who was well versed along the line of work in which the boys in that group were most interested and answered questions that were uppermost in the boys' minds.

Roy V. Wright, editor of the "Railway Age," gave a wonderful talk which stirred the hearts of everyone. After the luncheon the delegates went to the Grand Circus park, where the conference photograph was taken, and the balance of the afternoon was utilized to good advantage in seeing the sights of Detroit.

The delegates were taken past the Ford, Dodge, Packard, Studebaker, Chevrolet and other large plants, through beautiful residence districts and boulevards, then out to Belle Isle, where the large ore boats could be seen going up and down the Detroit river. Luncheon was served at Belle Isle and then the tour continued.

ue, covering some 40 or 50 miles.

Sunday morning and afternoon meetings were conducted more along religious lines and delegates were invited to attend their respective churches. In the afternoon B. V. Edworthy of Topeka, Kansas, gave a talk on the subject, "Meaning of Service." At six o'clock in the evening a buffet luncheon was served and a fellowship hour was enjoyed in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

On Sunday evening Cameron Beck of the New York Stock Exchange, gave a wonderful address on "Building of a Better Tomorrow," which was followed by general reports of the conference committees and the closing of the conference sessions.

At 7:30 o'clock Monday morning the Michigan Central railway furnished a special train, taking all of the delegates to Niagara Falls, accompanied by railway officials. The train was turned over to the young men who elected officers in each coach to see that everyone enjoyed himself. Competition was keen between the various coaches, where vaudeville sketches were staged. Quartettes were sent through the various coaches to entertain and games were played between the vaudeville numbers. A box lunch was served at eleven o'clock on the train which was much appreciated, but when the Michigan Central gave the boys a fine chicken supper words failed to express their delight.

The train arrived at Niagara Falls at noon, traveling between 80 and 90 miles an hour to cover the distance in the time specified. It left on the return trip at five o'clock the same evening, leaving the boys plenty of time to see the sights. Special street cars took the delegates over the famous gorge route, where the largest hydro-electric and some of the smaller plants could be seen, also to the whirlpool rapids, the American, Canadian and horseshoe falls, and other points of interest.

The boys have a "tip" for any whose private stock is getting low. They saw a boat load of "forbidden nectar" just above Niagara Falls, which is valued at $35,000. The load got away from its crew and stopped just above the falls. Anyone who wishes to take the desperate chances of salvaging the liquor may have

DELEGATES TO Y. M. C. A. MEETING

George Harris and Lawrence Ericson Report on Experiences at Detroit, Mich.

BANQUET WAS PLEASING

Addresses Made by Officials of Railways on Important Topics

Leaving Brainerd on last Wednesday evening, Nov. 12th, George Harris and Lawrence Ericsson went to Detroit, Mich., as delegates from the local Y. M. C. A. and also from the Northern Pacific and Minnesota & International railways respectively, to attend the second annual conference of the Younger Men's Railway Y. M. C. A., held Nov. 14th to 16th inclusive.

Upon arrival in Detroit Friday morning with other delegates from all over the United States and Canada, the boys were taken to the Central Y. M. C. A. by railway officials in their automobiles, where they were assigned to their lodging places and given breakfast, provided in private homes of the railway officials of Detroit.

The conference opened at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon with a song service conducted by George W. Campbell of Chicago. Mr. Campbell was the life of the conference from beginning to end. Following the song service C. C. Robinson of New York, gave a talk on "Getting Started," and assisted in the organization of discussion groups to help a young man choose his life work and further, how to conduct it.

The conference banquet was held on Friday evening at six o'clock in the new Metropolitan Methodist church of Detroit, which structure had just been dedicated and which cost one and one-quarter millions of dollars. There were 279 delegates and 77 leaders at the banquet. C. W. MacLeod of Kenora, Ontario, was chairman, and W. H. Flynn, superintendent of motive power on the Michigan Central railway, acted as toastmaster. The Michigan Central railway orchestra furnished the music of the evening.

Talks were made at this banquet by C. A. Reibling, general baggage agent, Michigan Central; Frank Stoddard, Albuquerque, N. M.; Warren King, St. Paul; John G. Walber, vice president of the New York Central lines, and several other officials of large railways.

The discussion groups held their first session on Saturday morning, after which C. C. Robinson gave an excellent address on "Finding Yourself." An hour later the group discussion classes met again to discuss the "Choosing of a Life Work."

A luncheon meeting was held on Saturday noon at the Cass Technical high school, each group having some man at its table who was well versed along the line of work in which the boys in that group were most interested and answered questions that were uppermost in the boys' minds.

Roy V. Wright, editor of the "Railway Age," gave a wonderful talk which stirred the hearts of everyone. After the luncheon the delegates went to the Grand Circus park, where the conference photograph was taken, and the balance of the afternoon was utilized to good advantage in seeing the sights of Detroit.

The delegates were taken past the Ford, Dodge, Packard, Studebaker, Chevrolet and other large plants, through beautiful residence districts and boulevards, then out to Belle Isle, where the large ore boats could be seen going up and down the Detroit river. Luncheon was served at Belle Isle and then the tour continued.

ue', covering some 40 or 50 miles.

Sunday morning and afternoon meetings were conducted more along religious lines and delegates were invited to attend their respective churches. In the afternoon B. V. Edworthy of Topeka, Kansas, gave a talk on the subject, "Meaning of Service." At six o'clock in the evening a buffet luncheon was served and a fellowship hour was enjoyed in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium.

On Sunday evening Cameron Beck of the New York Stock Exchange, gave a wonderful address on "Building of a Better Tomorrow," which was followed by general reports of the conference committees and the closing of the conference sessions.

At 7:30 o'clock Monday morning the Michigan Central railway furnished a special train, taking all of the delegates to Niagara Falls, accompanied by railway officials. The train was turned over to the young men who elected officers in each coach to see that everyone enjoyed himself. Competition was keen between the various coaches, where vaudeville sketches were staged. Quartettes were sent through the various coaches to entertain and games were played between the vaudeville numbers. A box lunch was served at eleven o'clock on the train which was much appreciated, but when the Michigan Central gave the boys a fine chicken supper words failed to express their delight.

The train arrived at Niagara Falls at noon, traveling between 80 and 90 miles an hour to cover the distance in the time specified. It left on the return trip at five o'clock the same evening, leaving the boys plenty of time to see the sights. Special street cars took the delegates over the famous gorge route, where the largest hydro-electric and some of the smaller plants could be seen, also to the whirlpool rapids, the American, Canadian and horseshoe falls, and other points of interest.

The boys have a "tip" for anyone whose private stock is getting low. They saw a boat load of "forbidden nectar" just above Niagara Falls, which is valued at $35,000. The load got away from its crew and stopped just above the falls. Anyone who wishes to take the desperate chances of salvaging the liquor may have it, providing he takes it back to the Canadian side.

The delegates left Niagara Falls on Monday evening and arrived in Brainerd at five o'clock Wednesday morning, full of enthusiasm for the work at hand, and very much benefited from the conference. They appreciate very much the kindness of all those who made the trip possible for them and hope that they represented Brainerd in a careful and efficient manner.

Mrs. Stillings' Theatre Party

Last night Mrs. F. D. Stillings gave a theatre party for the ladies of her house by taking them to the New Park theatre to see the really wonderful "Sea Hawk" picture. Sixteen ladies adjourned from the theatre to De Smidt's where a special lunch was served. The evening was most enjoyable and the lunch delicious.

MANDELL MAY SUCCEED LEONARD

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 20.—Sammy Mandell, a good-looking, polished little gentleman from Rockford, Ill., has a fine chance to succeed Benny Leonard as the lightweight champion of the world if Leonard will permit himself to be succeeded.

Leonard has shown no disposition to defend his title and even if the New York Boxing Commission should apply the corrective measures of a suspension, his successor would not have the prestige or the recognition of a champion who had come into the possession of a title in the orthodox manner.

Mandell looks to be the best of the crop of young 135-pounders who are growing into contending class. There are many more experienced and harder hitting aspirants for the class but most of them are in the trick division known as "junior welterweights," a class established by the New York commission and rather generally recognized for those who can't make 135 pounds and who are too light for legitimate welterweights.

Jack Bernstein, former junior lightweight champion, Mandell and Sid Terris, are perhaps the only three legitimate lightweights who can be regarded as championship possibilities.

Mandell has beaten Bernstein twice and fought one draw with him. It is true that the last decision Mandell won over Bernstein recently in Madison Square Garden was not by a margin that would eliminate Bernstein from further consideration. But the decision did make it more or less certain that Mandell always can beat Bernstein and that Mandell will improve with experience while Bernstein probably is at the top of his form or perhaps past it.

While he has been before the public for comparatively short time, Bernstein may be regarded as a young newcomer but he has been fighting for over ten years under various names, which is nothing against him, however.

Mandell is just a kid. He is younger than the age printed in the record book and he is just now filling out and developing into a sound physique. It is because he is young and only becoming matured and fully developed now that Mandell has not shown any great punching power. It will be recalled that Leonard didn't have a great punch when he started out and he grew into it.

Mandell hits sharply and accurately and it is only natural to assume that he will get more power into his punches when he gets more strength in his shoulders and arms.

FELONY CHARGES MAY BE LODGED AGAINST FULTON

PLASTERER'S "DIVE" BEING INVESTIGATED BY DISTRICT ATTORNEY

CHARGE MADE OF VIOLATING STATE BOXING LAW IN CALIFORNIA

(From St. Paul Daily News)

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 20.—Chief Deputy District Attorney Burton Fitts after questioning Fred Fulton and John Reddy at length yesterday, declares charges of felony carrying a prison sentence of from one to 10 years may be lodged against them and Tony Fuente and his manager as result of Rochester ex-plasterer's dive to the mat in his bout with the so-called Mexican champ.

Fulton and Reddy deposited $1000 bail each and will get a preliminary hearing on the charge of violating the state boxing laws Friday at 2 p. m., unless Fitts decides to charge grand larceny through trick and device.

Fuente and his manager, Fred (Windy) Winsor, have promised to come out of hiding and join Fred Fulton, Minnesota plasterer, in denying that Fulton's thirty-second "knockout" Monday night was pre-arranged.

The giant Minnesotan refused to answer questions put to him by Chief Deputy District Attorney Burton Fitts.

"I'm being made the goat, anyway," he declared.

Reddy, however, said the fight "looked suspicious" to him. He denied that he knew anything of a "frame-up," and said he was "disgusted and through" with his bulky charge.

J. McNeil, local banker, told the district attorney he had known Fulton in the east and talked with him before the fight.

"A friend was with me and he asked Fulton how he felt about the scrap. To my amazement, Fulton said he was going to lay down to Fuente and was to get $7,500 from Winsor for doing so," McNeil was quoted as saying.

This charge the big plasterer denied, declaring that he had not even talked with McNeil before the event.

Fulton has not confessed that he laid down, but he made such evasive answers that he only served to tighten the coils.

Fulton and Reddy were taken before Fitts, where both were subjected to a severe grilling.

Fulton was arrested at the hotel just as he was leaving with his suitcase, evidently just about to go.

When Fulton came into court he still had his suitcase in his hand.

It was rumored here before the fight that the bout was fixed and that Fulton was going to do a flop. For that purpose the attorney's office had six men at the ringside to carefully observe what happened.

All agree that Fulton went down the first two times feigning pain and anguish without being hit. Newspaper writers are unanimous that the fight was a fake, that Fulton laid down without being hit a single blow.

Hal Forrester, adjutant of the American Legion post which staged the fight, stated that the receipts, several thousands of dollars, would be donated to charity.

The big fellow seemed puzzled as to what it was all about. "I am accused of not fighting," said he; "they are all after me because they say I did not fight, yet I am arrested, and on bond, charged with being in a fight for which I was paid."

Fulton evidently did not catch the drift that his arrest on that charge was merely to hold him until the affair is well probed.

"Was the fight framed?" Attorney Fitts asked Fulton. Fred did not answer.

"Were you to lay down in the first round?"

"I suppose that I will be made the goat," said Fred. "I deny that there were any arrangements for me to quit, that Reddy, Fuente or Winsor had anything to do with it. I deny I was to take a knockout."

With the rumor quite strong before the fight that Fulton was going to lay down when he went down in the first three seconds without apparently being hit and rolled around as though in pain on the canvas the fans commenced to howl.

Fred got up, again a swing went over his head, again he dropped, got up and from a blow that if it did land at all was only a light tap to the chest he went down and was counted out.

Referee Earl Mohan counted Fulton out while the fighter lay upon his back writhing as though in pain. The fans were howling and cushions and other articles were being hurled into the ring.

PETERSON WINS FIRST PLACE FOR THE THIRD TIME

Y. M. C. A. RUNNERS TAKE FIRST
FOUR PLACES IN TWO-
MILE RACE

THIRD RACE OF THE SERIES AT-
TRACTS BIG CROWD AT GREG-
ORY PARK

The Y. M. C. A. took a commanding lead in the series of races with the high school by copping the first four places in the two-mile run last night. The Y. M. C. A. added 102 points to their score, bringing their total to 191, while the high school scored 60, advancing their standing to 136.

Peterson won first place, and kept his record clean. He and Dillan staged their weekly sprint to the finish line, with Peterson showing the better reserve speed. This is the third successive time that Peterson has won first place. Gile and Drake finished strong for the high school, Drake coming from behind in the last few feet to nose out Gile.

Only one race remains of the series the five mile race which is to be run off on Thanksgiving morning, at 9:30 o'clock. In this race the runners will start at the Y. M. C. A. run south to Fredstrom's corner, then east to Gruenhagen's, then follow Thirteenth Street to Oak, along Oak to Sixth, and back to the finish at the Y. M. C. A. The high school has a fighting chance to win the series by placing their men well toward the front in the last race. The public is invited to be on hand at the Y. M. C. A. on Thanksgiving Day morning to see the start and finish of this race.

The order in which the runners finished last night are:

California's Boast

Sixty per cent of the flower-seed crop of the entire world is raised in California; more than a hundred tons of nasturtium seed alone are grown every year. If all the sweetpea seeds raised there were distributed to every man, woman and child in the country, each one would have a fifteen-foot row in the garden, and there would still be several hundred tons for export purpose.

GOPHERS TO USE OPEN STYLE OF GAME NOV. 22

SOUTHERNERS MAY CAUSE SOME TROUBLE WITH PASSING
ATTACK

VANDERBILT HAS A LOT OF GOOD
PUNTERS WHO WILL FACE
MINNESOTA

Ed L. Shave, sports editor of the St. Paul Daily News, writes, as follows of the Saturday, Nov. 22 game, between Minnesota and Vanderbilt:

Open style game, brilliant end runs and long forward passes are due to be staged at Memorial Stadium Saturday for the fortunate fans who witness the Minnesota-Vanderbilt game.

Sherman Finger declares that the Vanderbilt eleven has one of the best forward passers he has ever seen, a really remarkable punter and great ends.

Ryan, who punts, made three punts around 70 yards each last week during the Vanderbilt-Georgia Tech game. Once, Finger declares, he punted from his 10-yard line and the ball dropped around the Georgia 10-yard line and rolled across the goal line and clear on out of the end zone.

Vanderbilt will gain on exchange of punts.

Wakefield plays end on defense, but plays quarter on offense. He also passes and sometimes punts, being an accurate kicker.

McKibben, a 205-pound guard, drops back from the line to hurl the long passes. He threw several passes last week of over 40 yards.

He does not run with the ball, and often on the formation when he drops back he does not pass, but Gil Reese, the speed boy, makes an end run.

Reese is the fastest man on the team. He is a real race horse.

The Gophers were given but light work last night. Carl Lidberg and Clarence Schutte are both in bad shape but being that Saturday's game is their last one for Minnesota both are expected to start.

There are several linemen in Clapp, McDonald, Swanbeck, Matthews who are playing their last game and will have their last chance to play and may be sent in.

Interest in the game is mounting upward and with this brand of weather a big crowd is expected.

Saturday's attendance was estimated at 38,000, about three thousand less than was out for Michigan.

J. H. Nichols, Oberlin, will referee; F. Gardner, Cornell, will umpire; Ira Carithers, Illinois, head line, and Jack McCord, Illinois, field judge.

Oysters Sold on Boughs

The traveler in the West Indies has the opportunity of viewing the novel sight of gathering oysters from trees. Around the harbors and lagoons the mangrove trees grow down to the water's edge. Their branches droop until a part of them is submerged. Oysters will cling to any surface in the water to which they can fasten themselves, and as there are few shelves or stones along the shores the bivalves attach themselves to the branches. When the natives go oyster gathering they lean over the side of the boat, find a branch to which oysters are clinging, and cut it off, and the bivalves are sold on the tree.

FELONY CHARGES MAY BE LODGED AGAINST FULTON

PLASTERER'S "DIVE" BEING INVESTIGATED BY DISTRICT ATTORNEY

CHARGE MADE OF VIOLATING STATE BOXING LAW IN CALIFORNIA

(From St. Paul Daily News)
Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 20.—Chief Deputy District Attorney Burton Fitts after questioning Fred Fulton and John Reddy at length yesterday, declares charges of felony carrying a prison sentence of from one to 10 years may be lodged against them and Tony Fuente and his manager as result of Rochester ex-plasterer's dive to the mat in his bout with the so-called Mexican champ.

Fulton and Reddy deposited $1000 bail each and will get a preliminary hearing on the charge of violating the state boxing laws Friday at 2 p. m., unless Fitts decides to charge grand larceny through trick and device.

Fuente and his manager, Fred (Windy) Winsor, have promised to come out of hiding and join Fred Fulton, Minnesota plasterer, in denying that Fulton's thirty-second "knockout" Monday night was prearranged.

The giant Minnesotan refused to answer questions put to him by Chief Deputy District Attorney Burton Fitts.

"I'm being made the goat, anyway," he declared.

Reddy, however, said the fight "looked suspicious" to him. He denied that he knew anything of a "frame-up," and said he was "disgusted and through" with his bulky charge.

J. McNeil, local banker, told the district attorney he had known Fulton in the east and talked with him before the fight.

"A friend was with me and he asked Fulton how he felt about the scrap. To my amazement Fulton said he was going to lay down to Fuente and was to get $7,500 from Winsor for doing so," McNeil was quoted as saying.

This charge the big plasterer denied, declaring that he had not even talked with McNeil before the event. Fulton has not confessed that he laid down, but he made such evasive answers that he only served to tighten the toils.

Fulton and Reddy were taken before Fitts, where both were subjected to a severe grilling.

Fulton was arrested at the hotel just as he was leaving with his suitcase, evidently just about to go.

When Fulton came into court he still had his suitcase in his hand.

It was rumored here before the fight that the bout was fixed and that Fulton was going to do a flop. For that purpose the attorney's office had six men at the ringside to carefully observe what happened.

All agree that Fulton went down the first two times feigning pain and anguish without being hit. Newspaper writers are unanimous that the fight was a fake, that Fulton laid down without being hit a single blow.

Hal Forrester, adjutant of the American Legion post which staged the fight, stated that the receipts, several thousands of dollars, would be donated to charity.

The big fellow seemed puzzled as to what it was all about. "I am accused of not fighting," said he; "they are all after me because they say I did not fight, yet I am arrested and on bond, charged with being in a fight for which I was paid."

Fulton evidently did not catch the drift that his arrest on that charge was merely to hold him until the affair is well probed.

"Was the fight framed?" Attorney Fitts asked Fulton.

Fred did not answer.

"Were you to lay down in the first round?"

"I suppose that I will be made the goat," said Fred. "I deny that there were any arrangements for me to quit, that Reddy, Fuente or Winsor had anything to do with it. I deny I was to take a knockout."

With the rumor quite strong before the fight that Fulton was going to lay down when he went down in the first three seconds without apparently being hit and rolled around as though in pain on the canvas the fans commenced to howl.

Fred got up, again a swing went over his head, again he dropped, got up and from a blow that if it did land at all was only a light tap to the chest he went down and was counted out.

Referee Earl Mohan counted Fulton out while the fighter lay upon his back writhing as though in pain.

The fans were howling and cushions and other articles were being hurled into the ring.

Introduction of Guns
Guns, it is claimed, were invented by a German named Swartz about the year 1378. They were first used by the Venetians four years later. England first employed them at the siege of Berwick in 1405.

Benvenuto Cellini's autobiography circulated in manuscript for nearly two hundred years after his death, until in 1730 it was finally printed. The account of his escape from the castle of Saint Angelo is thrilling.

PETERSON WINS FIRST PLACE FOR THE THIRD TIME

Y. M. C. A. RUNNERS TAKE FIRST
FOUR PLACES IN TWO-
MILE RACE

THIRD RACE OF THE SERIES AT-
TRACTS BIG CROWD AT GREG-
ORY PARK

The Y. M. C. A. took a commanding lead in the series of races with the high school by copping the first four places in the two-mile run last night. The Y. M. C. A. added 192 points to their score, bringing their total to 191, while the high school scored 60, advancing their standing to 136.

Peterson won first place, and kept his record clean. He and Dillan staged their weekly sprint to the finish line, with Peterson showing the better reserve speed. This is the third successive time that Peterson has won first place. Gile and Drake finished strong for the high school, Drake coming from behind in the last few feet to nose out Gile.

Only one race remains of the series the five mile race which is to be run off on Thanksgiving morning, at 9:30 o'clock. In this race the runners will start at the Y. M. C. A., run south to Fredstrom's corner, then east to Gruenhagen's, then follow Thirteenth Street to Oak, along Oak to Sixth, and back to the finish at the Y. M. C. A. The high school has a fighting chance to win the series by placing their men well toward the front in the last race. The public is invited to be on hand at the Y. M. C. A. on Thanksgiving Day morning to see the start and finish of this race.

The order in which the runners finished last night are:

California's Boast
Sixty per cent of the flower-seed crop of the entire world is raised in California; more than a hundred tons of nasturtium seed alone are grown every year. If all the sweetpea seeds raised there were distributed to every man, woman and child in the country, each one would have a fifteen-foot row in the garden, and there would still be several hundred tons for export purpose.

GOPHERS TO USE OPEN STYLE OF GAME NOV. 22

SOUTHERNERS MAY CAUSE SOME TROUBLE WITH PASSING
ATTACK

VANDERBILT HAS A LOT OF GOOD
PUNTERS WHO WILL FACE
MINNESOTA

Ed L. Shave, sports editor of the St. Paul Daily News, writes as follows of the Saturday, Nov. 22 game, between Minnesota and Vanderbilt:

Open style game, brilliant end runs and long forward passes are due to be staged at Memorial Stadium Saturday for the fortunate fans who witness the Minnesota-Vanderbilt game.

Sherman Finger declares that the Vanderbilt eleven has one of the best forward passers he has ever seen, a really remarkable punter and great ends.

Ryan, who punts, made three punts around 70 yards each last week during the Vanderbilt-Georgia Tech game. Once, Finger declares, he punted from his 10-yard line and the ball dropped around the Georgia 10-yard line and rolled across the goal line and clear out of the end zone.

Vanderbilt will gain on exchange of punts.

Wakefield plays end on defense, but plays quarter on offense. He also passes and sometimes punts, being an accurate kicker.

McKibben, a 205-pound guard, drops back from the line to hurl the long passes. He threw several passes last week of over 40 yards.

He does not run with the ball, and often on the formation when he drops back he does not pass, but Gil Reese, the speed boy, makes an end run.

Reese is the fastest man on the team. He is a real race horse. The Gophers were given but light work last night. Carl Liddberg and Clarence Schutte are both in bad shape but being that Saturday's game is their last one for Minnesota both are expected to start.

There are several linemen in Clapp, McDonald, Swanbeck, Matthews who are playing their last game and will have their last chance to play and may be sent in.

Interest in the game is mounting upward and with this brand of weather a big crowd is expected.

Saturday's attendance was estimated at 38,000, about three thousand less than was out for Michigan.

J. H. Nichols, Oberlin, will referee; F. Gardner, Cornell, will umpire; Ira Carithers, Illinois, head line, and Jack McCord, Illinois, field judge.

Oysters Sold on Boughs

The traveler in the West Indies has the opportunity of viewing the novel sight of gathering oysters from trees. Around the harbors and lagoons the mangrove trees grow down to the water's edge. Their branches droop until a part of them is submerged. Oysters will cling to any surface in the water to which they can fasten themselves, and as there are few shelves or stones along the shores the bivalves attach themselves to the branches. When the natives go oyster gathering they lean over the side of the boat, find a branch to which oysters are clinging, and cut it off, and the bivalves are sold on the tree.
